Dear Parents, Carers, Students and Friends of the College,

Yesterday myself and Mrs Batty, the eLearning Coordinator, attended an Apple Executive Conversation with John Couch, Head of Education who spoke to schools that have been nominated for their innovation around the use of technology in learning. We are one of thirty schools in all of Australia, one of six in NSW. I would like to congratulate the Clancy teachers, because this bears testament to the great work they do around the engagement of our students.

Gifted Education Update – The Clancy Spirit Mathematics Program
We are particularly interested in differentiating for all students here and in recent months, we have been in strong conversations around our Newman group in Year 7. Clancy University is in its second year here and we have fifteen students developing independent learning projects around Key Learning Areas, in which they have proven strengths. This year we launch The Clancy Spirit Mathematic Program. This is a project we share with Holy Spirit Primary, Carnes Hill. Mr Michael Reardon (Principal) and myself have been collaborating around ways to break down the barriers between Stage 3 and Stage 4 Mathematics and provide opportunities for Stage 3 students to access Stage 4 curriculum. Mathematics teachers at Clancy have developed Year 7 curriculum for students who have been identified by Holy Spirit teachers students in Stage 3. The latest technology, an Apple program iTunesU, has made the initiative viable. My thanks to Mr Kyritsis, Ms Williams, Mrs Batty and Mrs Drego for their great support of the initiative.

The project provides both schools an opportunity to collaborate and share learnings around the teaching and learning of students in both contexts and should overall lead to a greater understanding around transition from primary to secondary.

Athletics Carnival
On Monday of Week 3 we had a wonderful Athletics Carnival. These days are intrinsic to school life as they build character and school culture. The carnival was meticulously planned and had an altered structure so that there was a higher level of participation from students who may not necessarily wish to compete. I would like to thank the teachers also for their enthusiasm around the day and believe it or not, there were twelve teachers who ran in a relay on that day, an indication of the level of spirit that there is amongst the staff here. Thanks to Mr Bell for his organisation and commitment in his first year here at Clancy.

Year 12 Retreat
I had the pleasure of visiting the Year 12 Retreat this week to spend time with our most senior students and the wonderful teachers associated with that year group. The timing of this retreat is wonderful for our Year 12’s. They are dealing with a great amount of pressure and some disappointing results and the retreat brings an opportunity for our students to regenerate and to draw deep within themselves, to seek their character, to seek their courage and to seek their faith. I very much enjoyed leading the session, “Expressing my Heart” which was intended to help our Year 12’s explore their hopes and fears at this time of Year 12. Sadly we often focus more on our fears, rather than our hopes and this is a great way to orientate them. We are very impressed with the level of participation we received from our Year 12’s and we hope that they have come back feeling faith filled, motivated and feeling strong and resilient.

A special thank you to Mrs Melham and Ms Bissett who have spent an entire week away from their families in order to ensure that there is a level of consistency for both Year 12 Retreats.
Clancy Teacher climbs Mount Everest

Following up from the last Newsletter, I am happy to report that Mrs St Hill has summited Mt Everest and at this point is making her way back. We have been in contact with her through her blogs where she has described extreme conditions. At that altitude the body is expected to perform at a very high level with very little food of course and oxygen deprived. Messages have been sent to Mrs St Hill as she makes her way back to us and we look forward to her safe return. I wonder when Mrs St Hill was in Year 12, whether she was able to articulate her dream of climbing Mt Everest?

Iris Nastasi
Principal

From the Religious Education Department

This week our Year 12 students travelled to Stanwell Tops for their final Residential Retreat at Clancy. This opportunity is very significant for the students and the staff who attend, the weeks ahead for these young men and women are amongst the most stressful in their lives. It is important to take time from the hectic schedules, preparation for the HSC and coping with the stress of leaving school to find time for faith, friendship and renewal. It was a great privilege to spend a week with these wonderful students; their willingness to engage and share their own faith highlighted the living charism of our community. The friendship they offer to one another, enthusiasm to participate and strong faith make them inspirational role models to their younger peers. I would like to thank Fr Joseph Truong for coming down on Wednesday to celebrate Mass with us, and to Ms Stirling, Mr Humbles, Mrs Khoury, Mr Holland, Mr Ha, Ms Montibeler, Ms Fantini, Ms Bezzina, Mr Moomey and Mrs Nastasi for giving up time with their families to facilitate the retreat. It is an enormous commitment, but yet again displays the genuine care and interest the staff maintains for the students at the College. Finally, to Mr Bolonia and Ms Bissett who spent the whole week with the students, your involvement helped to ensure the success of the retreat.

Next Sunday 2 June, the Annual Procession of the Blessed Sacrament Feast of Corpus Christi will occur, starting at St Patrick’s Church Hill at 2.30pm, processing down to St Mary’s Cathedral forecourt for Benediction. All families are welcome to join the ‘Walk with Christ’, all students and staff at the College have written in the Prayer Book that will be processed. I encourage all families to consider participating in this event.

A reminder that Tuesday morning Mass will be celebrated next week at 8am in the Chapel. The ministry will be led by 10.1 Pastoral class, all families are welcome to join us.

Premier’s Reading Challenge 2013

The Premier’s Reading Challenge (PRC) is an initiative that was first launched in 2004 as part of a Literacy Engagement Program. Now in its tenth year, the Challenge continues to grow in popularity with more and more students participating. Last year, there were 235,000 students in NSW from Kindergarten to Year 9 who successfully completed the Challenge. It is expected that this number will be topped again in 2013.

The purpose of the Challenge is to encourage a love of reading for pleasure in young learners. It also aims to allow students the opportunity to experience quality literature by reading more regularly and more widely. These are also the objectives that underpin the beliefs and practices of our Library at Clancy Catholic College, so we are very supportive of this fantastic initiative.

Through the use of students’ Reading Log Booklets here at Clancy, we hope to encourage as many students as possible to be involved. Even students who may not complete the entire Challenge (of reading twenty PRC books) are eligible to receive School Merit Certificates after the completion of just five texts. Therefore, even the most reluctant readers have the opportunity to receive recognition for their efforts.

Since launching the Challenge once again at Clancy this year, we have had a great deal of interest from students in Years 7-9. Information, permission notes and Reading Log booklets were issued to eligible students in Term 1. However, it is not too late for students in Years 7-9 to take up the Challenge. Students have from now until August to read as many texts as they can from the PRC list. Any interested students can come to the Library for more information.

CASPA ‘Have You Got Talent? ’

The stage was set; the challenge was on. Clancy Performing Arts students were asked to dig deep and ask the question; ‘Have you got talent?’ The response was fantastic. Students began work on their auditions mid Term 1, with the heats taking place in Week 2, Term 2. What an amazing display of talent from students who work hard at their craft and draw inspiration from the support that the College provides to those who embrace the Arts as their own.

This year we had students enter the competition from nearly every Year Group. Particular mention must go to the Year 7 students who have adapted to the Creative Arts here at the College. Contestants participated in a variety of disciplines which included dance and music.

After much deliberation, a winner has emerged who will represent CLANCY at the Regional heats. This will take place in June and is to be held at Southern Cross Catholic Vocational College, Burwood. And the winner is......................... CLANCY 11 - Vincenzo Amitrano, Joesan Santos, David Oraha and Joshua Alfaro. Congratulations!!

Year 12 Construction - Tiling

During Term 1 of this year, Year 12 Construction were very busy with what we have framed up wall and floor frames and plastering, ready for tiling in Term 2!

The students were introduced to tiling in Week 1 of Term 2 and in Weeks 2 and 3 they put their practical skills to use to partially tile the wall and floor of the room they built last term.

For the remainder of the term and into Term 3, Year 12 Construction will be preparing formwork to lay a 2 metre squared concrete slab behind the TAS block.

Acting TAS Coordinator and Construction Teacher
The second of our CaSPA days occurred on Tuesday 21 May for our Torres Strait Islanders and Aboriginal students. The venue for this spectacular event was at All Saints Catholic Girls’ College which has been very gracious in offering their school for both events. There were a variety of activities for the students to be involved in. The students were able to engage with dance, song and hip hop. The day was created to give students an opportunity to explore their identity, culture, family and community. Throughout the day there were several interesting performances from our group especially Jordan Luke who performed a traditional Aboriginal dance. Alicia Syron composed and performed a song about her Aboriginal culture with a group of students from another school and Jasmine Williams helped coach and support Alicia’s group. Tamalee Dargan created a rap song about her Aboriginal identity.

Overall the day was an opportunity for our students to meet other students from our local schools and connect with professionals in the areas of dance and song. There is a special thank you to those people who make these opportunities available, people such as our School Principal Mrs Nastasi, Elizabeth Mullane the Secondary Archdiocesan Coordinator and Jane Bridges the Southern Regional Aboriginal Education Advisor who gave the Acknowledgement to Country. I’d like to thank our students who fully engaged in the workshop and Mrs Blain for supporting the students at this great event. It was a privilege to be a part of our students’ journey in discovering themselves.

A great day was had by all and this has allowed for planning for our next event, Goodjarga Day at Redfern on 23 August. This will be a festival day of cultural immersion with motivational speakers, guest artists and interactive workshops.

In addition we will be involved in a Mass at St Mary’s Cathedral. This has never occurred before and there will be over six hundred students in attendance which will have as its focus, an Indigenous and Torres Strait Islander influence.

For Clancy to take part in this, we are promoting the importance of providing opportunities for all students and our commitment to inclusivity. We are raising awareness of the value of one’s culture and providing an experience for our students around their identity. This will allow for our motto of striving ‘To Love like Christ’ to become a reality for our students of Aboriginal and Torres Strait islander origin.

Support Officer for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders

This year’s theme is ‘Let’s Talk Recognition’ which focuses on recognizing the contributions of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders as well as recognising and valuing differences. To celebrate National Reconciliation Week at the College, there will be activities taking place during lunchtime. Students are encouraged to participate in these experiences to connect with Aboriginal culture.

The College library will also present Indigenous displays containing information about National Reconciliation Week. There will also be a wide array of Indigenous resources on display that showcase the talents of several Australian Indigenous writers and celebrate the contribution made by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders in our community.

National Reconciliation Week 27 May - 3 June

Next Monday marks the beginning of National Reconciliation Week, which is celebrated across Australia each year from 27 May to 3 June. The start and end dates of this important event are deliberate as each signifies two important milestones that have taken place in recent indigenous history; 27 May marks the anniversary of the successful 1967 Referendum and 3 June commemorates the anniversary of the High Court Mabo decision. Both of these landmark events have had a significant impact on the reconciliation journey.

For Clancy to take part in this, we are promoting the importance of providing opportunities for all students and our commitment to inclusivity. We are raising awareness of the value of one’s culture and providing an experience for our students around their identity. This will allow for our motto of striving ‘To Love like Christ’ to become a reality for our students of Aboriginal and Torres Strait islander origin.

World Youth Day is approaching very quickly and is becoming an exciting reality for our ten Clancy pilgrims. Meeting nights, dinners and CEO organised events, bring it to the forefront of our lives. On Friday, 16 May, the ten students and myself, along with the other 350 Sydney pilgrims, gathered at Saint Mary’s Cathedral to be commissioned by His Eminence, Cardinal Pell, and to officially launch our faith-filled adventure. The Mass was beautifully conducted and a reflection of our privileged position in our Catholic community. This Commissioning Mass, emphasised the nature of a true pilgrimage and the amazing experience waiting for us in Rio. This was the event we needed to really understand that our pilgrimage has begun and it is going to significantly change our lives. We were able to meet the other students on our bus group for WYD festivities and gauge a sense of the characters we will be sharing this escapade with. A big thank you to Mr Ghignone, Mrs Nastasi and the parents who joined us to mark this special occasion. This is an experience we will never forget and we are getting more and more excited with each passing day! Rio here we come!

Carissa Dunn
World Youth Day Pilgrim

Thank you to the pilgrims and their families for all the efforts in preparing the Clancy WYD pilgrims. Please read the next itinerary update below and meet two more of our pilgrims.

God bless!

World Youth Day Rio 13 - Itinerary Brief #3

Each week we will share with the Clancy community details about where our WYD pilgrims will be going in South America and what they will be doing there.

Destination: Rio de Janeiro, Brazil

Famed for its breathtaking setting, Rio is undoubtedly one of the most attractive cities in the world, boasting iconic favourites such as Corcovado Mountain, where the statue of Christ the Redeemer stands proudly; Sugar Loaf mountain offering stunning views of Rio; and the characteristic beaches of Copacabana and Ipanema! This is our WYD host city!

We arrive in Rio one day before the WYD week events commence to have a chance to do some sightseeing. We will travel to the base of the Christ the Redeemer statue, Sugar Loaf Mountain and Copacabana Beach to name a few. The WYD week events combine many faith-developing activities such as an Australian Gathering and Opening Mass, Catechesis, Youth Festivals and Stations of the Cross on Copacabana Beach. These events culminate with the WYD Final Mass on Saturday night/Sunday morning, where pilgrims from around the world undertake a pilgrimage walk of a number of kilometres and sleep out overnight under the stars.

So excited!!!

How are you preparing for WYD? I am preparing for WYD spiritually by figuring out any questions I have. That hopefully WYD can help me answer. I am also looking at images and researching to discover all the interesting places and people that Rio has to offer and maybe that I will have the chance to experience, this makes it hard for me to contain my excitement, whilst doing a little bit a day through fundraising. I am just counting the days.
