2 February 2016

Dear Parents and Guardians,

As listed on our College calendar a Staff Development Day has been scheduled for Monday 15 February.

Staff will be involved in a Literacy Development Day which will provide an opportunity for Clancy staff to learn about the current literacy issues facing our young people in the 21st century. Teachers will apply what they have learned in faculty workshop-style sessions to build an appropriate curriculum that targets relevant intervention across the student population.

Given that our staff will be involved in workshops all day we request your child remain at home on this day. Supervision will be provided for students whose parents cannot make alternate arrangements.

Should you have any questions please contact your son/daughter's Year Coordinator.

Yours sincerely,

David Forrester
